

There is no concrete evidence that cellphones do not interfere with aircraft navigation; cellphones are annoying to other passengers; they will enable terrorists/hijackers to make and carry out plans/actions; they will hinder any onboard leadership as announcements will not be heard or adhered to; they will certainly impede preparations for and actual evacuations.